Last week I found myself in THE hab, a haberdashery store in Bandra. To say that my time here was anything less than amazing, creatively inspiring and fun, would be a lie. The store is actually like Disneyland for DIY freaks... I kid you not.

It's no secret that I love wearing what the boys wear, mostly because of the raw feeling of wearing something really boxy, and not just tailored to be boxy for women. Hence, in my workshop, I experimented with The Classic White Shirt, originally tailored for men, and turning it into a crisp Real Boyfriend Shirt.

In the history of fashion, the white shirt has appeared from time and again, be it in YSL's La Smoking Suit, Gianfranco Ferre's The White Shirt exhibit, the endless takes of other designers on this white shirt, or even your fast fashion produced ones; you gotta admit that the white shirt is here to stay, reappearing on the runway or the magazines in different avatars, from time to time.
